“The Chicago Police Memorial Foundation staff and its many volunteers work hard not only to pay tribute to each of Chicago’s fallen Officers, but to those who carry on the fine tradition of service each and every day.

We believe this is an investment.....giving back to our communities is an essential element of who we are. It is important for business and community leaders to work together to honor and support the men and women who protect our citizens each and every day. In that spirit, I encourage other leaders to join the Chicago Police Memorial leadership team by pledging your financial support in order to truly honor Chicago’s Finest!”
